Kia Ora

If the club could connect the power of its volunteers into the national grid it would keep the country running through any winter: In the last weeks there's been the team that contributed to making lunch, high tea, and organizing on the day of the Pink Ribbon Tournament; the early risers last Tuesday who helped the Green-keeper spread topsoil over the growing green, filling in any depressions; and there's also the group of painters who have been transforming the tired wood panel walls inside the club to a refreshing white. Many thanks!

If you're feeling left out and want to lend a hand the club is currently on the look out for sponsors to support our tournaments and business that would advertise in our handbook for the coming season, so spread the word! It would be a great help if you can keep on letting our sponsors know we appreciate their support by making use of their services when you can, and telling them you're a member of our club

We were sad to learn that life member Kath Jones had passed away peacefully in her sleep on 14th June 2018 aged 102. She was a stalwart member of the ladies club as a keen player, coach, and committee member, as well as being President of the Club 1984-85. Proof that being a keen bowler will give you a long life.

PINK RIBBON TOURNAMENT

Pink Ribbon Tournament a success

Club raises $1083 for the Breast Cancer Foundation NZ

The tournament was fully subscribed with 54 players in teams of three from all over Auckland as well as a team who traveled down from Dargaville. Many of the organisers and players were listening to heavy rain at 6am on the morning of the tournament with sinking hearts, but luckily the offending clouds moved on and the sun shone on the green for most, if not all of the day, with the third game losing just ten minutes to a heavy shower at the close of play. Inside the clubhouse volunteers from the club put on sandwiches and savories for lunch and a delightful high tea with glasses of pink champagne.

The group photograph of players in in the downstairs display cabinet, and a full report with lots of photographs is on the club's website.

Come along on Sunday 5th August to our Juniors 1-5yrs ACT tournament.
